

It is hard to believe that entities would try to limit the service Satellite Radio provides. Satellite Radio is a superior technology to distribute enhanced news and weather. The stifling of a great service would hinder access to already public information. What is next? Blocking new and weather from the Internet? This shows the lack foresight for the entities pursuing this limitation of Satellite Radio. There should be no limitation place on the Satellite Radio Service limiting free speech already exercised by the other carriers.